Corporal Works of Mercy: - Year of Mercy

Mercy is not just forgiveness but also concrete acts of love, justice, compassion for other people as listed in the corporal works of mercy. With a little imagination and creativity a family can adapt any of the corporal works of mercy to their contemporary circumstances.

Feed the Hungry: donate something to a food bank, forfeit a desert or a treat once a week and give the money saved to charity; avoid wasting food.

Give drink to the thirsty: don't waste water.

Clothe the naked: give unused good clothes to a clothes bank or Vincent de Paul Shop.

Shelter the homeless: write to your local politician advocating for public policies and legislation that provide adequate housing for first times buyers and low-income people.

Visit the sick: visit a relative or neighbour who is house-bound or in a nursing home; take the time to phone; send a card or an email to someone who is sick.

Visit the imprisoned: support efforts that seek the abolition of the death penalty; pray for the families of inmates; support advocates of those who are unjustly imprisoned.

Bury the Dead: write a note of sympathy or call on someone who has lost a loved one; care for family graves and local cemeteries; visit the graves of loved ones.

Logo

Jesus is the merciful one who goes out to look for the lost and carries them home on his shoulder. In the logo Jesus and all humanity may new see 'eye to eye' with each other.

Short But Sweet: A young man who had been hired by a large supermarket chain reported to work at one of the stores. The manager greeted him with a warm handshake and a smile, handed him a broom and said, "Your first job will be to sweep out the store". "But", the young man said, "I'm a college graduate." "I'm sorry," the manager said, "I didn't know that. Here, give me the broom and I'll show you how".

One Sentence Sermon: The words your mind thinks become the house your heart lives in.

A Thought

"If you want to build a ship, don't drum up the men to gather wood, divide the work and give orders. Instead, teach them to yearn for the vast and endless sea".
